

pressurizing flow

Portion of a dosing event during which the distribution system is being filled and thus is not yet at operating pressure.