

surface drip field

drip field designed and installed such that the drip tubing is located at the finished grade of the soil surface.