

performance standards

Minimum criteria for component or system treatment performance (e.g., presence or concentration of a constituent in effluent) typically established by a proprietary or regulatory authority to ensure compliance with public health and environmental goals of the state or community.