

zone of saturation

layer in the ground in which interstitial voids (cracks, crevices, holes, etc.) are filled with water; the level at the top of this zone is the water table.