

inlet baffle

Pipe tee or wall segment located at or near the inlet pipe of a septic tank and designed to dissipate energy, direct flow below the liquid surface, isolate scum from the inlet pipe, and allow ventilation.