

four-way valve

Valve that controls the effective action of the pump associated with a cargo tank; valve either directs the air flow into the cargo tank to create pressure or it directs the flow out of the cargo tank to create a vacuum.