

recirculation valve

pipng configuration in a pump discharge assembly to return a portion of the flow back into the dosing tank to change the system duty point, adjust system operating pressure or mix the contents of a tank.