

volatile organic compound (VOC)

class of organic compounds that readily evaporates; includes liquids and solids at natural environmental temperature; examples include solvents, adhesives and fuels).