

reserve capacity

Extra treatment capacity built into wastewater collection, treatment, and dispersal components or systems to accommodate projected increases in flow.