

watershed

drainage basin area contained within the bounds specified by a divide and above a specified point such as a lake, wetland, or stream.