

weep hole

1. drain hole to allow moisture or air to escape, such as a weep hole in a concrete tank that allows water to drain out of tanks while they are in storage; 2. drain hole in the discharge assembly that allows drainback to the tank after a dosing event.