

toxic event

sudden introduction of a substance or substances that impair or destroy biological activity within a wastewater treatment process.