

lateral turnup

Ninety- or forty-five-degree change in piping orientation from horizontal to diagonal and/or vertical at the end of a pressure distribution line; effectively brings the pipe to or above grade, facilitating periodic flushing of the lateral and enabling certain operational activities.

lateral turnup images/graphics:

Lateral turnup flushing valve connection configurations

Lateral turnup flushing valve connection configurations