

construction zone

Physical area occupied by personnel, equipment, and materials during the installation, alteration, extension, or repair of a wastewater treatment system; see also limit of disturbance.