

discharge vent

Air relief device in a siphon dosing configuration consisting of piping that allows air to enter and exit as needed for proper component function discharge vent images/graphics:

Cross-section of a typical siphon showing discharge line