

textile filter

type of media filter which uses non-rigid, synthetic material of varying shapes and configurations as the media; typically packaged as prefabricated modular units.