

extension

Alteration of a wastewater treatment system resulting in an increase in capacity, lengthening, or expansion of the existing collection, treatment or dispersal component.