

sequencing valve

Valve used to automatically direct flow to two or more final treatment and dispersal components, one or more at a time, and in a prescribed order.