

reactor

Container or tank in which controlled chemical and biological reactions used for the treatment of wastewater are carried out.