

friction head

Component of total dynamic head (TDH) described as the sum of all friction loss in the piping network and associated devices; see also friction loss.