

resilience

Ability to recover from or adjust easily to adversity or change; ability to recover from adverse conditions (excessive organic, hydraulic or nutrient loading or microbial inhibitors) or to adjust processes in response to changing waste streams.