

I and I

Infiltration and inflow; term used to describe the combined undesirable entry of extraneous water into a system component; see also infiltration and inflow.