

heterotrophic plate count

Standard procedure for estimating the total number of live non-photosynthetic bacteria in water; colony-forming units (CFU) are counted after spreading an aliquot of a sample over a membrane or pour plate and incubating in an amiable growth medium (agar) at an amiable temperature; see also colony-forming unit (CFU).