operation

Act of assessing the functionality of each component of the system; see also system management; inspection; maintenance; monitoring.