

operation

Act of assessing the functionality of each component of the system.