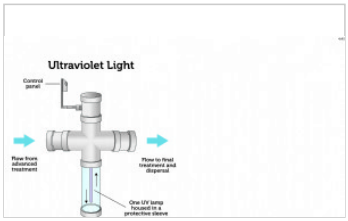
ultraviolet (UV) light disinfection

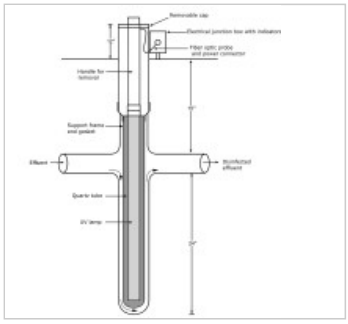
Physical process used to inactivate microorganisms by irradiating them with ultraviolet light (254-nm germicidal wavelength) to disrupt their metabolic activity, thus rendering them incapable of reproduction; see also ultraviolet.

ultraviolet (UV) light disinfection images/graphics:



Ultraviolet light disinfection

Ultraviolet light disinfection unit showing general configuration and flowpath



Ultraviolet light disinfection unit