

hydraulic loading rate

Quantity of liquid applied to a component surface area or capacity in a time interval, usually expressed as volume applied in a time interval to a surface area (e.g., gallons per day per square foot [gpd/ft²]), or capacity (e.g., gallons per day, hour or minute).