

baffle wall

Typical feature of a two-compartment septic tank consisting of a wall with a physical opening or pipe configuration used to retain solids in the first compartment.

baffle wall images/graphics:

Septic tank two compartment center baffle configuration

Septic tank two compartment overflow baffle configuration