turbidity

Relative clarity of effluent due to the presence of varying amounts of suspended organic and inorganic materials or color.